Introduction to the Apprenticeship Levy

The Apprenticeship Levy, implemented by the UK Government in April 2017, mandates contributions from all employers with a wage bill exceeding £3 million.

While this requirement covers many schools, many are unaware of the extent of their contributions or the procedures for accessing their allocated funds.

Schools affiliated with larger employer entities, such as multi-academy trusts (MATs), may potentially access substantial funds.

What are apprenticeships?

Apprenticeships provide an excellent way for schools to either recruit fresh talent or enhance the skills of their current staff.

A diverse range of apprenticeships are available ranging from level 2 (GCSE) to level 6/7 (degree and postgraduate degree level). Apprentices are employed by the school, acquiring on-the-job training that familiarises them with the school environment. Additionally they complete off-the-job training to learn new knowledge, skills and behaviours for their role.

Apprenticeships can be used to develop talent as part of a People and Talent Strategy and also for Continued Professional Development.

Schools and MATs encompass a wide variety of different roles. There are numerous apprenticeships available for training or upskilling staff for these roles.

Various apprenticeship training programmes may be relevant to your staff, including: Teaching Assistants, Unqualified Teachers, Early Years Practitioners, Senior Leaders, Headteacher and Executive Leaders.

“Apprentices enjoy their studies. They find their coursework and job roles challenging and stimulating. They value greatly the care and support they receive from their tutors.”

Ofsted Report,
December 2023

Who can apply for an apprenticeship?

In England, most anyone can apply for an apprenticeship if they are 16 or over and not in any other form of education.

Apprenticeships are a great way to gain an industry recognised qualification and develop a rewarding career. They are cost free for the apprentice and provide an opportunity to earn while you learn.

Current staff can also utilise apprenticeships for their CPD, this is a cost-effective solution for schools to promote and train employees.

Who is eligible for an apprenticeship?

To be eligible for an apprenticeship the learner must have:

- ✔ Support from their employer and Apprenticeship Levy account holder
- ✔ Be working in the role related to the specific apprenticeship programme, this might be a current employee or a new apprentice starting the role
- ✔ GCSEs in English and maths at Grade C (4) or above OR able to achieve Level 2 English and maths whilst on programme (for a Level 2 apprenticeship only Level 1 Functional Skills is required)
- ✔ Held a residency in the UK for the last three years

Understanding the Apprenticeship Levy and how it works

The Apprenticeship Levy is a contribution required from employers with a pay bill exceeding £3 million.

The Apprenticeship Levy is paid into a central Apprenticeship Service account at a rate of 0.5% of the total annual pay bill. Employers manage their levy funds through their account dedicated to apprenticeship training expenditures.

While only larger organisations pay the Apprenticeship Levy, the funds it generates also support apprenticeship training for smaller employers interested in taking on apprentices.

- The Apprenticeship Levy is paid into the apprenticeship service account monthly
- You automatically receive a 10% contribution top-up from the government. Apprenticeship training can only be delivered by an approved training provider
- Apprenticeship Levy funds can only be used to pay for training apprentices to achieve qualifications as part of an approved apprenticeship training programme
- Funds must be used within 24 months, or they expire

“Apprenticeships aren’t just for new staff and young people – they can be used to upskill and train existing staff of all ages and at any level.”

Tracy Clement
Apprenticeships Director
Best Practice Network

How does the Apprenticeship Levy work for your school?

Depending on how your school is managed, the Apprenticeship Levy will be held and accessed differently.

See below for more information and how to access your funds.

Academies and Multi-Academy Trusts

It is likely your trust will be your employer and they will pay into the Apprenticeship Levy. Get in touch with your trust head office to see how much allocation is available. There may be a centralised apprenticeship strategy in place across the trust.

Voluntary-Aided Schools

If your governing body’s pay bill is over £3 million, they will pay into the Apprenticeship Levy. To access the funds, you’ll need to contact your governing body and see how much allocation is available. Some VA schools can access the levy via their local authority, this will need to be discussed with them directly, however, Best Practice Network can support these discussions.

Community and Voluntary Controlled Schools

Your MAT is likely to pay into the Apprenticeship Levy. Your MAT should let you know how much levy you have available to spend. If you’re unsure how to access the funds, contact your local authority to find out.

What if your employer doesn’t pay into the Apprenticeship Levy?

If your employer doesn’t pay into the Apprenticeship Levy, or there are not enough available funds, you can still use apprenticeships at your school with the co-investment option.

The government will pay for 95% of the programme fees while your employer or account holder co-invests the remaining 5%. This 5% is invoiced monthly over the duration of the programme.

What are Apprenticeship Levy Transfers?

Alternatively, if you or your school cannot access the Apprenticeship Levy, your apprenticeship training programmes can still be 100% funded by a levy transfer. Apprenticeships can be funded by an Apprenticeship Levy-paying employer transferring up to 50% of their levy to a different employer.

Transferred funds are used to pay for 100% of the training and assessment costs of the apprenticeship up to the funding band maximum.

Transferred funds cover the cost of the whole duration of the apprenticeship.

What to expect from apprenticeships with Best Practice Network

As a leading provider of Early Years, Teaching Assistant and Leadership and Management apprenticeship programmes, we are committed to delivering high-quality education across all our programmes.

Apprentices learn with a mixture of coaching sessions and online classes well as independent study using high-quality teaching resources, such as webinars online documents and an extensive reference library.

Alongside the programme we run additional well-being, careers advice and guidance programme called BPN boost. There are optional monthly webinars on different topics and an online library of resources to support apprentices with their journey.

Best Practice Network is a corporate member of the Association of Apprentices. All apprentices will become members and be able to network with their community, attend events and access further information and resources.

Working in partnership with your schools to deliver your apprenticeship strategy

Apprentices are fully supported by expert Apprenticeship Tutors based across England who will visit your school for in-person reviews and observations

We understand the unique challenges and opportunities multi academy trusts face when it comes to effectively utilising the Apprenticeship Levy.

Our dedicated team is here to work in partnership with you to create a comprehensive and impactful apprenticeship strategy tailored to your specific needs.

Why Partner with Us?

Expert Guidance: Our experts have extensive experience in the education sector and are well-versed in the intricacies of the Apprenticeship Levy. We provide clear, actionable advice to help you navigate the levy, ensuring you maximize its benefits.

Bespoke Training Programmes: We design customised training programs that align with your school's objectives. Whether you're looking to upskill existing staff or recruit new talent, our training solutions are crafted to meet your precise requirements.

Recruitment Services: Finding the right apprentices can be challenging. Our recruitment services are designed to streamline this process, helping you attract and select the best candidates who are eager to contribute to your school's success.

Strategic Planning: We work closely with your leadership team to develop a strategic plan that integrates apprenticeships into your broader educational goals. This includes identifying key areas where apprenticeships can add value and creating a roadmap to achieve these goals.

Coaching in the Early Years Apprenticeship Level 5

For Early Years professionals who coach others, formally or informally, and want to refine their practice.

The new Coaching in the Early Years Apprenticeship is the first ever coaching apprenticeship designed specifically for the Early Years sector. The programme is for Early Years practitioners, leaders and support staff who are already guiding others and want to build their expertise in structured, impactful coaching.

- For staff who coach/mentor formally or informally
- Develop structured, high-quality coaching skills specific to Early Years
- Grow as a leader and support the development of others in their setting
- Gain the ILM Level 5 Certificate in Effective Coaching and Mentoring alongside your apprenticeship, with no extra study or cost – all tailored to Early Years settings

What is Coaching?

Coaching is a structured, professional conversation that helps individuals reflect, grow and improve their practice. Unlike training or instructing, coaching doesn't provide all the answers – it uses skilled questioning, listening and goal-setting to help others find their own way forward.

In the Early Years, coaching is about unlocking potential. It empowers practitioners to build on their strengths, overcome challenges and take ownership of their development.

Equivalent to a foundation degree, this work-based training programme equips apprentices with a broad range of advanced skills and empowers them to take the lead on strategically embedding Thrive in their setting or across an organisation.

Who is it for?

The apprenticeship is suitable for leaders and aspiring leaders who are looking to upskill with a nationally-recognised qualification. It's best suited to those who have previously trained as Thrive Licensed Practitioners. Potential apprentices may currently be working as teachers, SENDCos, Designated Safeguarding Leads (DSLs), members of the senior leadership team, pastoral leads, support staff, higher level teaching assistants (HLTAs), behaviour leads, attendance mentors, mental health leads, or other roles working directly with children and young people that are empowered to lead the implementation of Thrive, such as in care homes or secure facilities.

It is also well-suited to professionals working with children and young people in social care, youth organisations, charities, across local authorities or multi-academy trusts.

To be eligible, candidates need to:

- Be employed in a role working closely with children and young people.
- Have support from an employer and levy account holder.
- Have held UK residency for at least three years
- Be based in England
- Have achieved GCSE grade C (4) or above in English and maths or be able to achieve Functional Skills Level 2 in these areas whilst on programme (mandatory for ages 16–18). If the candidate is over 18, they will agree with their setting as to whether they need to complete Functional Skills as part of the apprenticeship.
- Be in a position to lead the strategic implementation of the Thrive Approach within their class, department, setting, or organisation.

Thrive Advanced Practitioner Level 5 Apprenticeship

Equivalent to a foundation degree, this work-based, triple-qualification training programme is ideal for teaching assistants (and those in similar classroom-based support roles) who are looking to upskill, progress their careers, and build on their existing expertise in social and emotional support for learners.

Who is it for?

The apprenticeship is suitable for teaching assistants (or those in similar support roles)

who are working directly with children or young people in a classroom environment and is most appropriate for those who have previously completed Thrive Licensed Practitioner training. Aside from teaching assistants, potential apprentices may currently be working as attendance mentors, behaviour leads, higher level teaching assistants (HLTAs), learning mentors, social and emotional wellbeing teaching assistants, special education support staff or specialist learning support staff.

To be eligible, candidates need to:

- Be employed in a role working closely with children and young people.
- Have support from an employer and levy account holder.
- Have held UK residency for at least three years
- Be based in England
- Have achieved GCSE grade C (4) or above in English and maths or be able to achieve Functional Skills Level 2 in these areas whilst on programme (mandatory for ages 16–18). If the candidate is over 18, they will agree with their setting as to whether they need to complete Functional Skills as part of the apprenticeship.
